ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PARK PROPOSED FIELD HOUSE AND SWIMMING POOL

Swimming Pool Election Is July 25

Do the people of Arlington Heights want a swimming pool? Are they willing to guarantee the payment of $20,000 in Revenue Bonds as their share of the project proposed Uncle Sam does the rest? That is what the Park Board intends to find out.

That body has called a special election for Saturday, July 25, to give every voter within the district an opportunity to express his opinion.

Unless a majority of the votes cast are favorable to the project, the park board will make no effort to avail themselves of the WPA method of construction, which means that Arlington Heights will probably have to wait many years before a swimming pool is constructed here.

At the present time Park Ridge, Des Plaines and Barrington have swimming pools and in two of the villages, those pools were paid for entirely by the park districts.

According to plans that have been prepared by Consoer, Townsend & Quinlan, Arlington Heights can have a pool and field house second to none northwest of Chicago at a cost of not to exceed $20,000 to the taxpayers.

The opportunity is so great and because of the possibility that such grants may be discontinued in the near future, speed is necessary and in the opinion of the engineer the project must be set up as soon as possible.

The days of free and easy WPA projects are past and it is understood that the government is now selecting the ones that are the most worth while. Arlington Heights cannot get a swimming pool as an outright gift. It stands a chance of acquiring one if it meets the government with 20 per cent of the cost. Under the new regulations there must be assurance that the money is forthcoming and the bond issue is therefore necessary.

The park board made it plain at its meeting Monday night that if a pool and field house is constructed, the work must be properly supervised and directed by reliable engineers and architects and for that reason has tentatively retained the engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend & Quinlan, dependent upon the carrying of the election.

It is estimated that at the last election when the purchase of the park was approved, only half of the voters in favor of the project went to the polls. If they show similar indifference at the coming election, the swimming pool project has the opportunity of failing. Experts in such matters are that those opposed to such improvements take time to vote, but those who favor the project stay away from the polls because they think that the project is so worth while that it is certain to carry.

MANY PRIZES AT ARLINGTON FESTIVAL

Large Group of Prizes Offered Nightly To Holders of Auto Tickets.

Bigger and Better Than Ever—that's the slogan of this year's American Legion Festival sponsored by Merle Guild Post No. 208 to be held in the business district of Arlington Heights just south of the railroad tracks July 21-25 inclusive. There will be attractions for both young and old including rides, skill games, wheels, corn games and refreshments.

The Legion Festival committee, headed by Clyde Jones and Miles Burpee as Co-Chairman, has been working day and night for the last several months to make this the biggest and best Carnival the town has ever had. It is planned to have some sort of entertainment or music every night.

The Legion has given very few activities this year and hopes that the citizens and business men of Arlington Heights will support this year's festival. "This should be the best Carnival our Post has ever given," says C. L. Griffith, Commander of Merle Guild Post. "There will be attractions of all kinds for both young and old and something doing every minute."

Committee To Promote Sale of Bank Stock In Private Calls

Following a second mass meeting at the Arlington Heights municipal building last Thursday, a definite decision was reached that the personal contact method be used in the sale of the remaining shares of stock necessary before a bank can become a reality in Arlington Heights.

It is proposed to give every person in the village an opportunity to invest in the stock, thereby insuring as large a group of stockholders as possible.

FARMERS GET INCREASE IN MILK PRICE

Local Retail Price May Remain Unchanged; Chicago Prices Up One Cent.

Recognizing the increase cost of milk to the farmers, an agreement was entered into Tuesday, between the dealers and the Pure Milk association whereby the new price to the farmer will be $2.08 per hundred pounds for 100 per cent of the base.

Some of the Chicago dealers have announced an increase in retail price, commencing Thursday, of one cent a quart. Arlington Heights dealers interviewed said Wednesday afternoon that they would make no increase in retail price before August 1 and perhaps not then.

It was indicated at the office of the Pure Milk Association that the present increase may be followed by others if the drought continues.

Shortage of Feed Now
"If the fields continue to burn up for another two or three weeks the way they have been doing," said an association official, speaking for John P. Case, president, "there is no telling where the price of milk may jump to."

There is, however, no present danger of a shortage. Under the new price the farmer can afford to go out and buy feed to keep his stock going. The feed supply is extremely short, even so, and most of the 'native' feed being used is last year's hay. Some have hay and some haven't, but those who are supplied have only enough for a short supply.

New Farm Price Thursday
The new price, which goes into effect Thursday, will give to the farmers 53 cents a hundred pounds (1.13 cents a quart) more than they were receiving in June. This is the second time within a week that an increase has been agreed upon, due to the skyrocketing of costs to the farmers, who have been forced by the drought to burn-feed their milk cows. The once verdant pastures of Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, forming the Chicago milk-shed, are burnt stubble, it was pointed out.

Under the terms of the agreement the farmers will receive 50 cents a hundred pounds over the condenser price of $1.58. They will thus receive $2.08 a hundred pounds, or 4.47 cents a quart on their full allotment or quota.

John P. Case, president of the Pure Milk Association, said that the increase to the farmers will be an incentive to produce milk during the extreme drought.

"Dairy farmers in the Chicago milk shed are facing ruined pastures and an acute feed situation because of the drought condition," Case said. "Therefore the price increase is welcome news to our membership."

The agreement with the Chicago milk distributors represents an increase of 15 cents over the 35 cents spread over the first fifteen days of July and 20 cents over the condenser price for the month of June. The base increase represents an increase of 10 per cent over the arrangement for the first half of July and 15 per cent over the June method of base payment. Payment to Pure Milk Association members is based on the condenser price as set by the farm milk price formula, a combination price based upon the prices of cheese and butter on the world market. The Pure Milk Association's 14,500 members supply the city of Chicago with approximately 90 per cent of its milk.

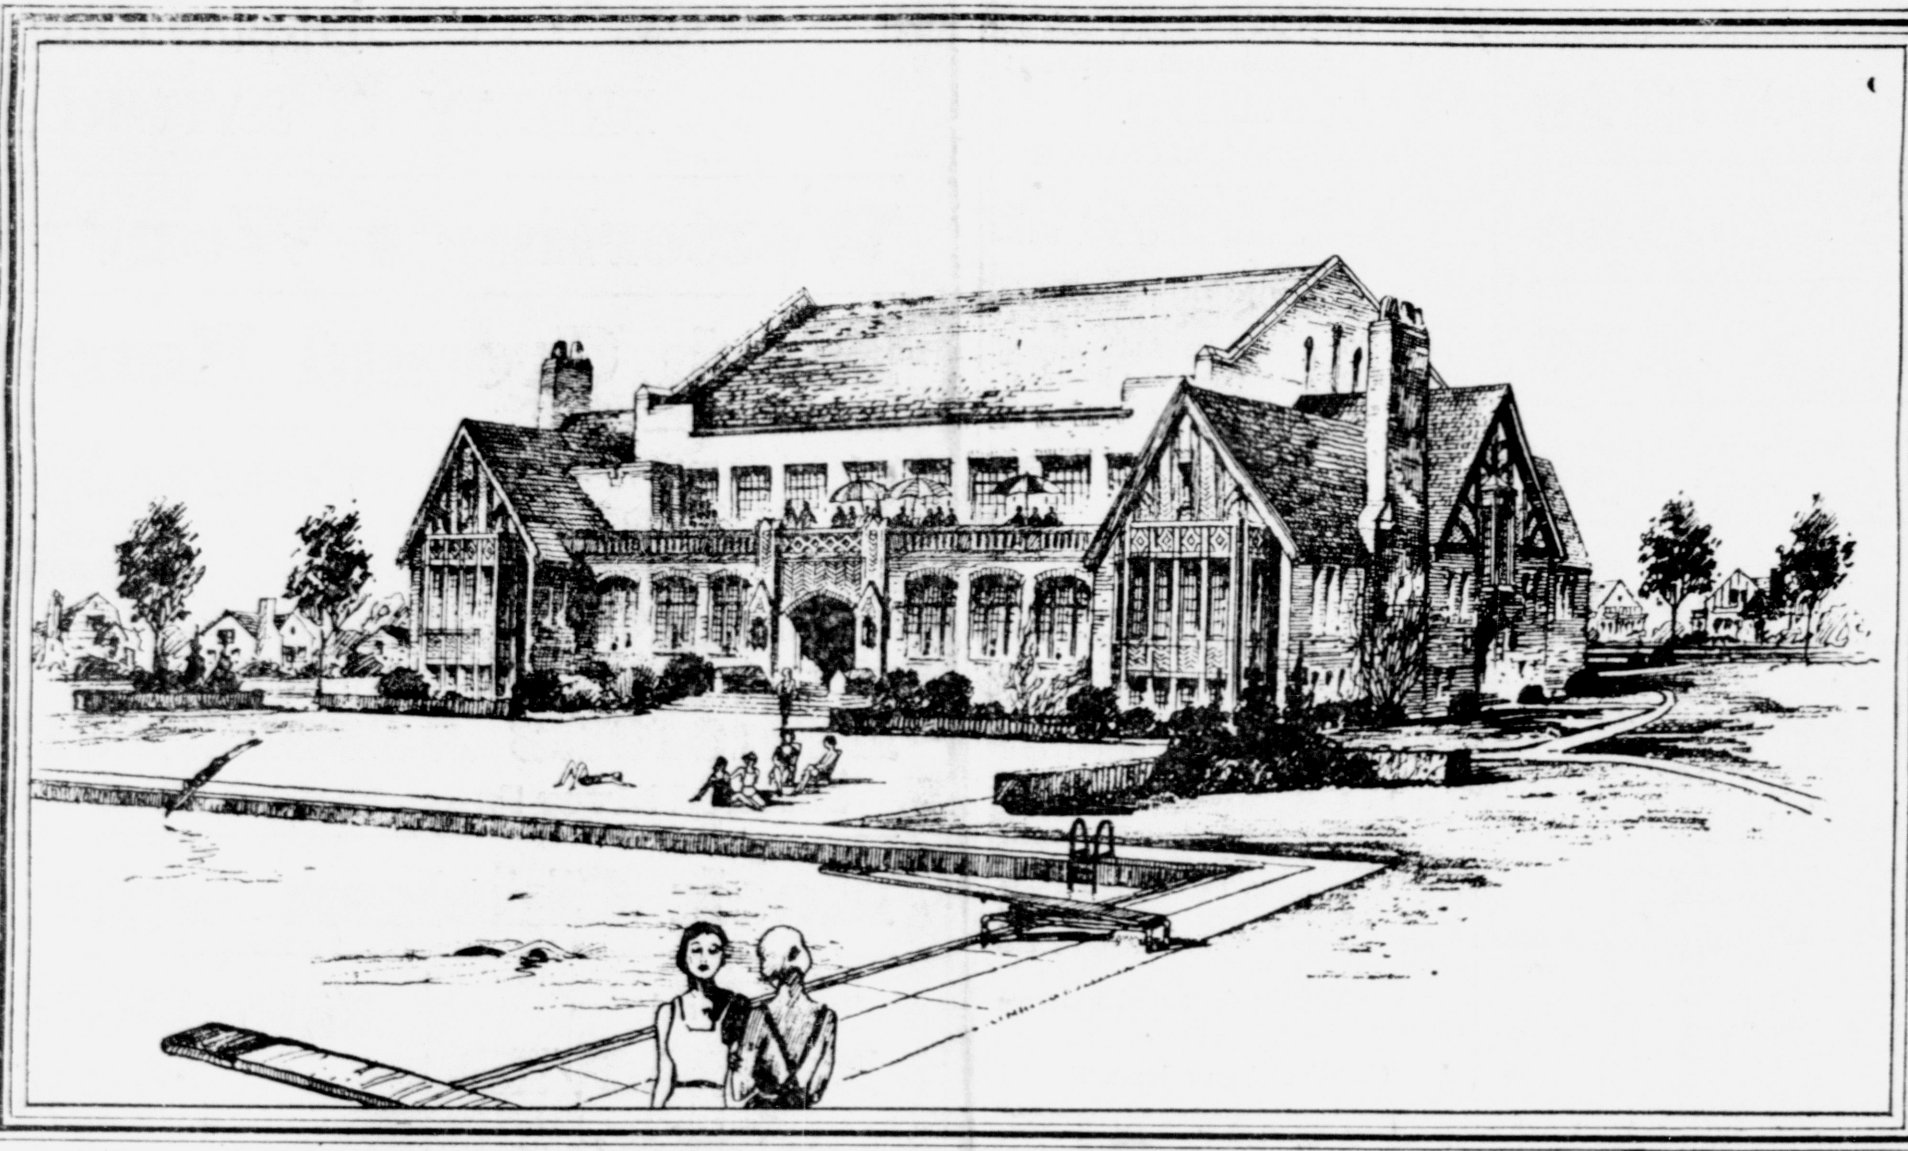

Cream, Butter, to Go Up
In addition to milk, it is also expected that butter and cream prices are due for an increase.

"Because of the drought," said George Stevenson, president of the Northwest Dairy Forwarding Company, one of the largest in the northwest, "creameries are showing decreases of 6 to 18 per cent every week in butter shipments. Butter prices moved up 7 cents a pound in June. With cattle being shipped out of the drought areas as fast as possible to prevent their dying in the fields, it is probable that butter will be selling for 50 cents a pound by October."

Funeral Services For Mrs. Lies, Cloverdale, Held Last Friday
Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Lies of Cloverdale, were held at St. Isadore's church, last Friday morning. Mrs. Lies, widow of John Lies, died Tuesday morning, July 7, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Hahn. She was 84 years of age and life long resident of Cloverdale.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Lies, Cloverdale, Held Last Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Lies of Cloverdale, were held at St. Isadore's church, last Friday morning. Mrs. Lies, widow of John Lies, died Tuesday morning, July 7, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Hahn. She was 84 years of age and life long resident of Cloverdale.

The architecture of the Field House is English with a variety of materials typical of that style, which blend and harmonize with the quiet simplicity of its surroundings. In addition to the Field House is a large outdoor pool, 75 ft. by 150 ft. and also a small wading pool for little children.

The plan is simple and direct in arrangement, calling for an auditorium of about 75 ft. by 90 ft. allowing space for a regulation basketball floor and ample seating capacity, with a porch facing the pool which can also be thrown into the auditorium for extra seating.

Flanking the auditorium on both sides are lounges and available rentable space for parties, etc. Below these rooms, respectively, are locker rooms with showers for men and women, with direct access to both the auditorium and the athletic field.

This improvement is to be built as a WPA project. The total cost will be about $105,000 with the Arlington Heights Park Board contributing only about $20,000, an arrangement which should appeal to local taxpayers.

Residents of Arlington Heights have been flocking to nearby pools in Barrington, Park Ridge and Chicago. Arlington Heights will make ample use of the proposed pool and Field House. The Field House will be heated and during the winter months will be available for basketball, volleyball, handball, dancing, card parties and other athletic and social recreation.

FINANCES OF SCHOOLS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Tax Warrant Indebtedness Decreases; Cash Balances Increase.

The financial condition of nearly all school districts in Wheeling and Palatine townships show a much improved financial condition according to the report published last week for Wheeling township and the report of Palatine township, published this week. The decrease in outstanding tax warrants tells its own story and in many cases, the cash balances upon June 30, show an improvement over a year ago.

Arlington Heights high school has cut outstanding tax warrants by $4,000. This district has made its outstanding bonds and coupons, $10,000 in bonds were paid, which is the amount of bonds that fall due each year. $14,654 was paid in interest coupons and today, none of the latter are in default. All 1934 bonds are paid and some of 1935.

District 25 has made a reduction of $750 in tax warrants. District 21 has made a reduction of nearly $2,600 in outstanding warrants and has increased its cash balance by a thousand dollars. District 26 has cut its warrants one half to $315. Four school districts have no outstanding tax warrants. They are Nos. 20, 22, 23 and 24.

Palatine Township
The Palatine high school has refinanced past due bonds and coupons to the amount of $24,000 and has paid $8,000 in addition. With over $10,000 on hand is in an enviable financial condition. School districts that have reduced outstanding warrants are: District 12, $370; Dist. 16, $91; Dist. 17, $900; school districts 14 and 18 had no tax warrants the last two years. District No. 13 had $300 the previous year and none the last year. The Palatine grade school district has reduced $7,700 in tax warrants to half of that amount, although the cash balance is $1,500 less than a year ago.

None of the school districts in the two townships have gone backward in their finances.

This is due in large part to the exercises on the part of the school treasurers of their supervisory authority in the spending of the school money. Both Geo. K. Volz, of Wheeling township and Frank Oldendorf, of Palatine township, have kept a watchful eye on all orders paid by the respective school boards. All expenditures are made only in accordance with the provisions of the law, which has been especially beneficial to the tax warrant and bond funds.

Quality Market Celebrates This Week; Free Hot Dogs

The Quality Market has installed some new refrigerated show cases that give that store a new appearance. In appreciation to their friends, whose patronage has made possible the installation of the new equipment, a "Thank You Sale" is this Friday and Saturday. On Saturday, all day long a hot dog served on a Mors bun will be given free.

WHO IS WHO AT HOME

Meet Mr. Martin Hattendorf, our Schaumburg inventor. We call him "our inventor" because of his ability to build mechanical devices and machines to do most any kind of work. For instance, he made a grain blower by using a model T Ford, which has proved highly efficient as a labor saving device on their farm, as well as on several other farms in the vicinity. He also built machines for sharpening lawn mowers and discs. These sharpening machines do accurate, precise work and many neighbors are now bringing their mowers and discs to Martin to be sharpened.

Our inventor has other hobbies, for instance, he has an old two cylinder automobile which appears very much like an old buggy, such as used to be pulled by horses. This car is still in running order. It is estimated to be close to 40 years old.

Martin is a very successful trapper and follows the sport with great enthusiasm during the open season. He is also a lover of flowers. Between these various hobbies he is deriving a world of contentment, as you can readily see by the happy, contented expression on the above picture.

Arlington A & P Stores Win June Sales Contest; Thank Their Customers

Arlington Heights A & P stores scored twice in the June sales contest sponsored by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company between 23 suburban stores. The Campbell street store, managed by John Angelloff, won first on a percentage sales basis and the North Duntun street store, managed by Al. Wilson, won first place on a dollar sales basis. These stores are under the supervision of Assistant Superintendent, J. Wilson.

Naturally these local managers are proud of their success, but realize that it was the good will and patronage of Arlington Heights people that enabled their stores to win. They thank all customers for support given during the contest.

RELIEF IN OPERATION AT PALATINE

Supervisor Meyer Receives First Payment of State Relief Money.

Supervisor John Meyer, of Palatine, has established his office in the Palatine municipal building with hours between nine and twelve o'clock every Wednesday morning. He has received a check for 40% of the July allotment of state tax money and is handling all relief cases that come to him. At the present time, food orders to fifty per cent of previous relief are being issued. No checks are issued for rent, but families on relief have the privilege and are encouraged to get whatever outside employment that is possible in order that rent, clothing and other bills can be paid.

"Gas bills for month of June can not be paid, but July bills due in August, will be cared for," states Mr. Meyer.

The town meeting to vote special relief tax will be held Saturday at 2 p. m.

EDGAR H. FLENTIE
a graduate of Arlington Heights high school who is undergoing a lot of schooling preparatory to making medicine his life work. He receives his AB degree Saturday and expects to get his M. D. in 1939.

Edgar H. Flentie Receives AB Degree Valparaiso July 18

Edgar H. Flentie, son of Mayor Flentie, of Arlington Heights, will receive his AB degree from Valparaiso July 18. Following a pre-medical course of three years at that university, he has completed his first year of medicine at Loyola university school of medicine, from which school his credits have now been transferred to Valparaiso and where he will receive the above degree next Saturday.

After three additional years at Loyola he will receive his M. D. degree. He is an active member of Phi Beta Pi, national medical fraternity.

While at Valparaiso, Mr. Flentie was secretary of Kappa Iota Pi, president Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic fraternity, member of the Buccaneers, men's glee club, band, was chapel organist as well as officiating in biology and chemistry clubs. He was also business manager for the 1935 Uhlman, year book of the university.

LOCAL TAX TO AID RELIEF

Nine Voters of Wheeling Township Attend Meeting and Vote Unanimously for 30c Levy.

The town of Elk Grove will hold its special relief meeting next Tuesday in the town hall, corner Arlington Heights and Higgins road, when action will be similar to that taken by Wheeling township.

The town of Wheeling at a special town meeting Tuesday afternoon met the requirements of the new state relief statute and passed a special levy of $12,000 for relief purposes. This step makes available from the state of approximately $1,350 a month from the state sales tax, and insures a relief program within the township.

While there were nearly twenty people in attendance at the meeting, only eleven voted upon the tax levy, but that vote was unanimous.

Mayor J. D. Flentie had been previously designated by the town board as moderator. Gilbert Klehm, a member of the town board explained the requirements of the Hickman-Lantz bill passed at the special session of the 59th general assembly.

Upon motion, the vote was taken and as this was the only matter of business that could come up before the meeting an immediate adjournment was taken.

Supervisor Grandt will not open a relief office until after he receives the state fund. In a few emergency cases he has issued grocery orders.

Governing Rules
The attorney general of the state has rendered a series of opinions regarding the operation of the relief under the township organization, from which the following data is taken:

Money received from the state can only be used for relief. The salary of the supervisor or overseer of the poor must be out of regular township funds. The administrative expenses, such as rent, office supplies, postage and salaries of clerks can be paid out of the 30c township relief tax.

Anticipation warrants against the new levy can be issued at once after the levy is made.

Money raised by the 30c levy must be prorated over the nine months period until the next town meeting.

A new resident to any township can not receive relief from local relief fund until he has resided 12 months in the new township without having received aid in any form during said year. Until that time, the township or county from which he has moved is responsible for his relief.

The county board has no authority to audit the books of the supervisor or to change applications for state relief funds that are made by the township unit.

The supervisor has the authority, if not able to handle the work alone to hire assistants.

The township supervisor, as township treasurer is not allowed to charge a fee for the handling of relief funds.

ISSUES WARNING ON NEW DANGER OF FIRES

Des Plaines and Cook County Mutual Fire Insurance Company Points Out New Fire Dangers on Account of Extreme Drought.

HEAT BLAMED FOR LOSS IN FARM FIRE

Arlington and Mt. Prospect Fire Departments Fight Blaze in Elk Grove.

The extreme heat and the stowing of baled hay in a barn, are blamed for a bad fire that occasioned a $5,000 loss on the Mrs. Louis Garlisch farm on Aigron road, east of Arlington Heights road, Monday evening. The tenant, Henry Frederichs, lost a horse, several chickens, farm implements stored in tool shed and other property, which were insured in the Des Plaines Mutual Fire Insurance company.

The buildings destroyed included a large barn, garage, chicken barn and tool shed; insurance on which was carried in the Addison Mutual Fire Insurance Co.

The Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect fire departments both responded but on account of the speed with which the buildings burned, were compelled to confine their efforts to saving the residence. Farmers brought water from neighboring wells, in sufficient quantities to keep the summer kitchen fifty feet away free from the flames.

In removing the animals from the barn, one horse returned to its stall and was lost with some chickens.

KINDERGARTEN IS PLANNED BY LUTHERANS

Project Dependent Upon Local Support; To Be Presented Before the Church Meet Sunday.

In response to a considerable interest in a full time modern Kindergarten for this community expressed by many parents of preschool children, the school board of St. Peter's Lutheran church, has taken under advisement the establishment of such an educational institution.

The board has given thorough thought to all questions and problems involved and will present its findings to the voters' meeting next Sunday afternoon. The proposition which will be submitted, calls for a qualified and experienced woman teacher to take charge of the first grade and combine this class with the kindergarten group in the morning. If, however, the size of the pre-school group is sufficiently large, a separate class may be organized under another instructor for this group. The matter has as yet not come to a definite conclusion. It will depend on the action taken by the voters' meeting and the support given this project by the parents of the church and community.

Arlington Heights unquestionably needs and wants an up-to-date kindergarten, fully equipped, led by a specialized teacher and combined with an accredited grade school. Whether these desires will materialize or not depends on the actual support given to this project. It is essential that all parents of the community who are interested in sending their children to such a kindergarten before Sunday, phone or contact Rev. H. C. Fricke and signify their willingness to enroll their children. The price of tuition has been set tentatively at 50 cents for non-members and 25c for members per child per week.

Few people realize that one gallon of gasoline evaporated into fumes and properly mixed with air has the explosive power of 83 pounds of dynamite. People will carelessly handle this explosive liquid who would not permit dynamite to be stored in their buildings under any condition, yet dynamite is far less dangerous.

Broken lightning rod grounds are often found on the barns. Some farmers attempt to make young elevators out of their barns with hammer mills, gasoline engines and such. Too often the gasoline engine is improperly installed with the exhaust pipe resting on wood. These are only a few of the most common hazards found in farm property. There are many others.

MOB RULE STILL IN EFFECT AT FIRES

Warnings previously published in this paper have no effect upon the fire fans of Arlington Heights, who at times of fire alarm continue to crowd the streets and highways preventing regular members of the department from reaching the scene.

The Garlisch fire Monday night was another instance where mob rule governed and no recognition was given by the "crazy" fire fans to the horns of the regular members of the department, including

"New farm fires in this vicinity should arouse all farmers and village people also, to the danger of a severe fire loss," stated George Busse, secretary of the Des Plaines Mutual Fire Insurance Co., Wednesday morning. "The fire upon the Garlisch farm occurred at an hour when help was able to respond quickly. Two fire departments were upon the scene. Yet the loss was several thousand dollars."

"We have been so free from fires in recent years, that many policy holders have grown careless. When a fire occurs the careful policy holders must pay on account of the disregard of others of a few fire prevention rules," continued Mr. Busse.

"At this time, with the severe drought, almost anything combustible will burn twice as easily and I call the attention of all farmers to the fact that fire hazards on all farms are increasing. The Des Plaines and Cook County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., requests all farmers to take extra precautions to prevent fires in the barns and in the yards where dry feed is stored."

"Pastures, meadows and oat fields are so dry, it is important that smokers avoid emptying pipes or throwing away cigarette stubs, except in places where they can be doubly certain that no fire will result."

"A little cooperation of not alone policy holders of our company, but the general public will save them from possible loss and payment of extra insurance premiums. Aside from the special danger that exists today on farms on account of the dry spout, to fire certain other preventative measures that should be remembered at all times. Here they are:

The loss on the buildings falls upon another company, but next time it might be our loss.

Fire hazards are so common and the policy holder has lived with them for so long, that he does not realize the danger. Probably defective chimneys are the most common fire hazards in the dwelling. Bricks and mortar often become rotten enough just below the roof in the attic that holes are found or the condition such that a lead pencil can be shoved through the chimney without even breaking the lead in the process.

Chimney openings, especially in upstairs rooms, are often improperly closed. There may be no flue stop at all or a metal stop rusted out, or a metal stop papered over and a wooden picture frame hanging against the stop. When a chimney burns out it will heat the metal flue stop, which is a very combustible material that may be in contact with the flue stop.

A wooden fire board may be used to close a fireplace, and the same chimney may have a stove in use at one of the openings. You know too well what happens when the accumulated soot at the bottom of the fireplace catches fire by the wooden fire board.

Where there is a furnace often times kindling or even rubbish will be found stored beneath the smoke pipe. The pipes eat out from the inside and whole chunks with burning soot often drop out before the owner realizes that the pipes are defective.

Increasing use of electricity on the farm, improper wiring and improper fuses must be closely checked. Substandard wiring and improper fuses are like a defective steam boiler with an improper safety valve. It may work perfectly without any sign of weakness until there is an overload, then it is all too late.

Few people realize that one gallon of gasoline evaporated into fumes and properly mixed with air has the explosive power of 83 pounds of dynamite. People will carelessly handle this explosive liquid who would not permit dynamite to be stored in their buildings under any condition, yet dynamite is far less dangerous.

Broken lightning rod grounds are often found on the barns. Some farmers attempt to make young elevators out of their barns with hammer mills, gasoline engines and such. Too often the gasoline engine is improperly installed with the exhaust pipe resting on wood. These are only a few of the most common hazards found in farm property. There are many others.

Police Will Pick Up All Stray Dogs Without Muzzles

In accordance with the municipal code and in view of special warnings issued by the state department of health, Mayor Flentie has issued a proclamation that all dogs running at large upon the streets without muzzles will be picked up and destroyed.

Two Girls Bitten
Action by the police to enforce the above order received new impetus Wednesday when reports were brought to the station that two girls had been bitten that morning. The bull dog blamed, is under observation while the girls are receiving medical aid.

Glad to hear that LaVerne Storms, who was injured in a recent accident, is improving. It will be some time before she will be out of the hospital, but as the doctor says "LaVerne has spunk" and we are cheering for her.

Rose-Lo Still Undefeated End Of First Round

The second round of softball closed Tuesday evening with the Cafe-Hartmann game. Standings of the teams remained almost unchanged. Rose-Lo, featuring the pitching of Luerssen and Muran, remained at the top. Luerssen's victory over Hartmann's powerful hitters was the outstanding event of the round. Klehm's Peonies again lost their first two and won the next two, although they had to rally strongly in the late innings to win over Cafe. Suefke's Cleaners, which had beaten Cafe in the first round, lost all four games in the second. However, they gave Hartmann's a scare before losing, 11-9. Cafe showed the expected improvement, battling for every game. Their surprising victory over Hartmann's was the big upset of the round.

Luerssen's pitching has improved over his good work of the first round and Muran is working well. Koelling's batting and Balek's fielding and hitting are outstanding. Hartmann's team has no individual star, although Jerousek behind the plate is attracting much favorable comment. Eight players are hitting over the three hundred mark. The fielding is usually good. Glen Granzin is pitching the Klehm outfit to their ranking. He has been helped by the phenomenal hitting of his brother, Carl and of Bublit, each of whom is well above five hundred. The Cafe team has been strengthened by several mature players. Miller's pitching is frequently excellent, while O'Hagan ranks near the top as a catcher. Erratic play and pitching have cost Suefke's Cleaners several games. Mezzaros gave up eleven runs to Hartmann's in the first two innings, then set them down with one hit in the next five. Miller pitched well enough to beat Rose-Lo, but saw six unearned runs scored in an inning after two were out. Incidentally, Bill Lyck's circus catch in that game, was the greatest play of the round.

Rose-Lo seems to be in for the season's championship and Hartmann's are well anchored in second place. As hitting improves, however, upsets are highly probable. Some of the third round games should be the best on the schedule.

All-Star Game Wednesday

An All-Star team is being selected for a game with the Rose-Lo team next Wednesday. The starting battery for the All-Star will probably be Baldwin and Jerousek. Some sure to be in action are Boeger, Lemke, Thompson, Sadecky, Meyer, W. Rose, Bendic, Briggs, Chambers and others.

New Tennis Courts Popular

RAYMOND HAYES

Tennis enthusiasts in and about Arlington Heights, have for weeks been seeing their dream come true. Three fine courts have been constructed and will soon be completely equipped. Located along Belmont avenue in the new park, they are as convenient as possible for all. Trees along nearby streets and beside the courts offer shade for parking, and for persons waiting to play.

The surface of the courts is of asphalt, especially prepared for the purpose. The engineer in charge of the work states that hot weather will not injure such a surface. He could not have selected a better summer for proof. While permanent nets are not yet installed, several persons have set up nets and played. They declare the courts to be the most satisfactory of any they have ever used. Hard enough for a fast and true bounce by the ball, the courts are resilient and do not injure the feet of the players. There is no glare from the deep green surface in the bright sunlight.

A high, strong fence surrounds the courts, so that only the wilder drives will go outside. Lights were installed for night playing. They have been tested and are ready for use. Steel nets will soon be set up. The order was given to the Wilson Sporting Goods company, a large firm, so immediate service is expected. Nothing else remains to be done, except to install a drinking fountain. This has been ordered also, but no date for delivery can be predicted.

Some regulations are necessary for the use of the courts. A small fee will have to be collected from players so that the cost of supervision will not add to tax burdens. Any rules that are adopted will be for the greater enjoyment of the courts by all. It is a universal custom for public courts to be given up to waiting players periodically, usually at the end of the hour. It should be unnecessary to have to ask players to wear tennis shoes. Arlington people should appreciate the quality of their courts, which are the finest, and should take excellent care of them. If the courts are properly cared for and if reasonable courtesy is forthcoming from players, Arlington Heights will find the new tennis courts a wonderful contribution to material values and to enjoyment of living.

Arlington Girls Play Evening American winner

Friday, July 17, the Armitage Coals, second place winner, in the Evening American tournament last year, will be the first of a number of "big league" girls teams to play our girls at the North Side Field on Friday nights. The Armitage girls lost the championship by an 18-17 score, which easily proves their caliber. Playing as Humboldt Park they won the Chicago Park District Title.

The Chicago team has girls who have won recognition in national athletic competition, among them are Lora Murphy and the two Rozhon sisters, all of whom played on the Bowler girls national championship basketball team. Their first baseman, Laverne "Harpo" Brueback, is considered the class of the city at this position. The other girls were all picked for their ability to play ball with such stellar athletes. At present the girls are once more in the play-off series for the City Title.

Our girls have no such outstanding stars, but they have been able to dominate their rivals in the Northwest Suburbs. They are organized as a town team for the first time and to date have won 5 and lost 1. The defeat was at the hands of the Montgomery V-8 team of Chicago, a team whose record for the year is 39 victories out of 42 games. The game was played last Wednesday under lights in Chicago. Our girls, though losing by a wide margin, won the admiration of the crowd of approximately a thousand people by their ability to hit and their spirit against such odds. Playing under ordinary conditions on their home grounds this Friday, they expect to give their "big city" rivals a run for their money.

All our residents and visitors of Arlington, "The City of Good Neighbors," come out and boost your girls. Not having a backer as most teams playing ball today, they will deeply appreciate your real, as well as your moral support. Before closing this invitation the girls wish to thank Mr. Elmer Sachs, and Judge Kopplin, two real friends and boosters, for their ever-ready help and encouragement.

See you Friday, July 17, at 7:00 p. m., North side school grounds.

Scout Troop To Benefit at Festival

Troop Five of the Boy Scouts of America, which is sponsored by the Merle Guild Post of the American Legion, has been given the privilege of supplementing their troop fund at the coming Legion Carnival to be held July 21-25 in Arlington Heights. The boys have arranged for the services of Artees, widely known character analyst, who will donate his services for the week to the troop.

Artees will analyze character from both handwriting specimens and from facial characteristics, and is one of few to combine these two means of analysis in his readings. He will endeavor to direct both individuals and couples along lines tending to create greater harmony through a knowledge of the strength and weaknesses of the persons analyzed. He limits his work to those above the age of eighteen years. His analyses are not designed to foretell the future, but to inform the individual of his character.

The troop will also bring out the old cow bell for the would-be pitchers to throw at. Prizes will be awarded to every person who is successful in hitting the bell.

The two booths will be directed by the members of the troop. The support of all patrons of the Carnival is solicited.

Union Printers Here Sunday

The Red Wings, who played at Streator last Sunday, were taken by a strong aggregation by the score of 8 to 3. Streator with its strong left hand hitters scored four runs in the first three innings and were never headed. In spite of the fact that seven runs were scored against Dieball in the seven innings that he pitched, Dieball pitched fine baseball, but the three misjudged flies in the outfield and four blunders in the infield were too much of a handicap for him to overcome. Schumacher, who pitched the last two innings, was also in good form, the only run scored against him being a long fly ball, which was turned into a run, because of misjudgment in the outfield. Hertel was the heavy hitter for the Red Wings, getting three hits out of three times up. The Red Wings were shown sportsman-like hospitality by the Streator club, and may some time in the future get together for another game.

Next Sunday the Red Wings will oppose the Union Printers at the Red Wing Park. This Chicago team, which has been organized for a good many years, has always been known as a hard club to beat and the Red Wings are going to be sure not to overlook this fact. The twirling will be handled by Dieball and Schumacher for the Red Wings, until Diederich comes back from his honeymoon to complete the trio for the Fireman game July 26.

Arlington Water Supply Proves Ample In Drouth

The Arlington Heights water supply is undergoing a severe test this season and is meeting fully the heavy and severe demands that have been placed upon it due to the continued warm weather, severe drouth and road building operations now in progress. The PWA project under which a fifty thousand dollar improvement in the water system and supply of Arlington Heights which was made two years ago, has proven to be the most profitable investment that the village has ever made.

Yet it was an investment that did not cost the tax payers of the municipality one cent in outright taxes and is netting returns in comfort, fire protection and financial receipts that exceed the original expectations of the village officials under which it was consummated.

The improvement included three contracts: (a) the drilling of a deep well; (b) erection of a 250,000 gallon elevated water tower to give adequate storage and pressure; (c) installation of addition at 12 inch water mains to complete a loop of large size mains around the town.

Uncle Sam provided all of the money needed for the entire improvement, with the possible exception of a few minor bills. The thirty per cent outright grant on construction costs (not supervision or overhead), has meant the payment to the village by the government of $14,532. The ten thousand dollars was paid in cash during the construction of the work. The village issued $40,000 in income bonds payable out of the receipts of the water department, and for which the water department segregates $700 every quarter.

The U. S. government this week received settlement by returning to the village as cancelled four one thousand dollar bonds and a check for $582.

Today, on the $52,000 improvement, the village water department only owes $36,000 and under the amortization plan that department hardly feels the 17% of receipts that is set aside for interest and bond payments each year.

It is not the financial part, however, that is of special interest to the water users of Arlington Heights. They are interested in water and they have it.

The deep well pump is only being worked for 25% of its capacity, and there has been no evidence of a shortage at any of the other pumps.

The unusual demands that are placed upon the water supply include:

Excessive consumption by regular users on account of hot weather.

Extra consumption by race track visitors.

The daily use and sale of 30,000 gallons to the Chicago Heights Coal Co., contractors on Rand Road.

The Material Construction Co., contractors on Palatine road is hauling water by tanks.

The sale of water for use at nursery to save evergreen stock.

This picture is a glowing one for Arlington Heights and we are not glorying in the hard luck of our neighbors, but listen to this:

On top of a water shortage in Mt. Prospect, the recently completed underground reservoir tank under the PWA requires the segregation of a part of the water revenue for the PWA bonds and other parts of the water revenue will soon be segregated to insure the payment of sewage treatment bonds. Between these and the regular expenses of the water department, the Mt. Prospect picture is dark—and still the people of that town have not a sufficient water supply.

The same condition exists in Palatine regarding the supply of water from shallow wells and there again the water department must be mortgaged to make possible a sewage treatment works.

The same condition exists in Barrington.

The City of Park Ridge, which depends upon Lake Michigan for its water prohibits sprinkling during fires.

Many other villages are in the same condition.

So you Arlington Heights people have many reasons to be thankful for your water system and the financial set-up that is back of it.

And last, but not least, the Palatine fire department can not accept a challenge for a water fight from Arlington Heights, because that department has not sufficient water with which to practice.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect fire departments and also everyone that helped in any way at the fire Monday evening.

Mrs. H. C. Paddock and son, Charles, are doing the World's Fair in St. Louis this week.
Cora Bergman is visiting friends at Irving Park.
C. H. Patten has had the bakery moved to the back end of the lot to make room for the new bank building.
Dr. E. W. Wood celebrated his 76th birthday Wednesday and incidentally that of three other "Jublers," Mr. and Mrs. W. Oakes and Rollin Wilson who were present.

August Burger is hauling crush for the new iron bridge.
Goeddeke's croquet ground is lively every night, the last game always has to be finished by lamps.
Oh say! Itasca has a flying police squadron which threw the "Hobo" Drag net the other night and successfully landing 7 representatives of that profession into the cooler or rather the "Sweatbox." They will give Itasca a wide berth hereafter.
Wm. Rosenwinkel has the first ripe field of oats.

A. Hinz returned from the hospital and is getting along nicely, but is still very weak.
A large crowd attended the barn raising at A. L. Bakers July 13. A good time and a fine supper was enjoyed by all present.
Belle and Stella have gone home and the boys are left again to do their own housework, but from all appearances they will soon have a new cook.

Wheeling
The members of the Amity club of Deerfield extend a cordial invitation to the people of Wheeling to their picnic at Van's Grove, Tuesday evening, July 26. One of the principal attractions will be the baby show.

Our baseball team played the Deerfield a warm game Sunday at Deerfield, score 12 to 11 in 12 innings, our boys losing. Never mind they will have to play them again.

70 Per Cent Rule

Goes In Effect

For Milk Base

The basic production rule which requires each member of the Association to deliver 70 per cent of his base for three consecutive months goes in effect on September 1, it was announced today by Pure Milk Association.

The rule is as follows: "Any member whose average daily production for any three consecutive months does not equal 70% of his present established base on record (100% base) will thereby establish a new base which shall be determined as follows: Original base on record less whatever percentage of same is delivered under the required 70%. Whatever base is lost under this rule shall in turn be allotted by local allotment committees under same provisions as now applying to Rule 5-D of regular basic rules."

Members of the Association losing base will be paid for the amount lost at 95 cents per pound as soon as it is sold to other members of the organization who desire to purchase such base. Association officials disclosed. The 5 cents difference remains in the Association Local to cover the expense of handling the base allotments.

CAST READY FOR FIRST COMMANDMENT

Reports from the director, Sadie Mae Farley, indicate that every member of the cast will be prepared with his lines and will be ready for the two performances of "The First Commandment," which will take place July 21 and 22 at 8:15. Every character has been issued special costumes, and everything indicates that the production will go off in a smooth and efficient manner. The choir numbers are being thoroughly rehearsed; the lines will be completely memorized, and everything will be in readiness for the most spectacular production that has ever been staged in Palatine. The special lighting equipment is here, and proper assistants have been selected by Mrs. Farley, the director, to help with the managing of the lighting and the conducting of the entire production.

"The First Commandment" as has already been announced, is a dramatization of important events leading up to and connected with the giving of the "Ten Commandments." The costumes are unusual, beautiful, and authentic. The special lighting equipment gives a color effect to the production that has never before been attained. The other special properties, such as beards, armor, shields, and spears lend an ancient setting to the production that is awe-inspiring.

Rev. Bloomquist playing the part of the announcer and grandfather is ready to announce the production as it is staged. The other characters will be in readiness, and Mr. William Cooke, playing the part of Moses; Mr. Marvin Plate playing the part of Joseph; Mr. Roy La Londe and Mr. John Mangels, playing the parts of the Pharaohs of Egypt are anticipating the greatest portrayal that they have ever given on a local stage.

The story of the production begins with the story of Joseph, that is well known to everyone. In actual dramatic scenes on the stage, the story of Joseph being sold into slavery, being later elevated to the Governor of Egypt, and then still later being reunited with his brothers, is all portrayed in an intensely interesting and dramatic manner by the characters in this production. The actual lines spoken by these characters, the beautiful Biblical language will be a revelation to every member of the audience.

Also, the complete story of the deliverance of the Israelites from Egypt by Moses and Aaron, is portrayed on the stage. The coming of the plagues, the actual deliverance of the Israelites, the deliverance from the Red Sea, and the marching through the wilderness, are portrayed in beautiful and exciting scenes. There is a dramatic intensity and suspense to the production that cannot be described. One must actually see it to appreciate it.

The climaxing scene of the production is the actual giving of the Ten Commandments by Moses to the people. As he reads the Ten Commandments from the tablets of stone, which he actually carries, the people repeat the Commandments after him. The closing scene of the production is the portrayal of the Nativity, or the birth of Christ, done in a beautiful light, in authentic and beautiful costumes. Although this is a story well known to everyone, it is portrayed in an entirely new and different manner; something that is unusual and something that will hold the audience spell-bound. The grand finale of the production is something that will be well worth the price of admission alone. The entire cast of characters appear on the stage in a grand finale while the choir sings the Hallelujah chorus from "The Messiah." Never before has there been such an array of authentic and beautiful costumes of ancient times gathered together on the local stage.

There is something in the production of "The First Commandment," that is entirely different from anything that has ever been staged in this community before. In fact, never before has such a stupendous production ever been attempted in this community. It is not only spectacular entertainment, but it has real moral and educational value. Every individual in this community should see it, for no other reason than because newness of the production and the fact that it is entirely different from anything that has ever before been produced in this community.

"The First Commandment" has been a sensational success wherever it has been staged. In surrounding communities the production has met with the approval of everyone, and has drawn tremendous crowds.

A tremendous crowd is anticipated for the production July 21 and 22. It is important that you get there early to get a good seat because there will be a huge crowd thronging to get into the hall. "The First Commandment" starts at 8:15 and the doors will be open at an early hour. Don't fail to be there.
